Dear Dr. L.K. Nanda,

You will be glad to know that on the occasion of World Homoeopathy Day, Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy (CCRH) is organizing a Scientific Convention on 10-11 April 2018 at Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi. The Council, established in 1978, is an apex research organization in the field of homoeopathy in the country.

The Convention has been planned to share the advances made in the field. The theme of this convention is “Innovate: Evolve: Progress” portraying salient achievements of 40 years of council. The delegates of the convention would include homoeopathic researchers, practitioners, students, industrialists as we all as representatives of various homoeopathic associations. Many reputed scientists and veterans of Homoeopathy will be the speakers at the event. The program schedule is attached for your information.

Keeping in view your keen interest in the activities of the Council and expertise in your subject, you are requested to kindly be a Chairperson in our panel discussion on ‘Road ahead for Young Researchers in Homoeopathy’ on 11th April 2018, scheduled to start at 2:30 pm.
